To whom it may concern,

This letter is my personal recommendation for David Prasad. Until just recently, I have been David's immediate supervisor for several years. For just under 15 years, David primarily worked as a computer graphic operator where he would layout & design advertisement collateral for clients. I found him to be a very hard worker, tackling all assignments with dedication and a smile.

David was well respected by his coworkers for his willingness to help anyone at anytime. He was well organized, diligent in his work and always on time. I highly recommend David for employment. He is punctual, performed his job duties professionally, a team player and made an amazing impact in quality of production. David would make a great asset to any organization.

Kind regards,
